

METHODOLOGICAL NOTE 2024

INTRODUCTION

Our society expects the pharmaceutical industry to be able to make the best possible medicines available to them. To achieve this objective, it is necessary to invest in Research and Development, as well as in training, requiring close collaboration with Healthcare Professionals (HCPs), Healthcare Organizations (HCOs) and Patient Organizations (POs). This valuable exchange of knowledge and experience makes it possible to have the most innovative treatments, which improves the life expectancy and quality of life of patients.

It is necessary for these collaborations to be transparent and for society to be able to trust that they are due to the need to develop new medicines, to constant updating of HCPs according to scientific evidence and its application to clinical practice, all of this with the common goal of providing better patient care.

When collaborating with medical experts, we comply with applicable laws and regulations such as the EFPIA Disclosure Code in Europe and fully respect the independence and integrity of these professionals.

That is why, since 30 June 2016, companies disclose transfers of value made to HCPs, such as consultancy and advisory boards, speaker fees, and sponsorship to attend meetings. This transformational step in the relationship between industry and health professionals is a result of the EFPIA Disclosure Requirements.

The Disclosure provisions in the EFPIA Code require all EFPIA member companies and companies that are members of EFPIA member associations to disclose transfers of value to HCPs, HCOs and POs. They will also have to disclose – by HCP or HCO – the total amounts of value transferred, by type of activity, which could consist of, for instance, a grant to an HCO, a consultancy fee for speaking, payment for travel, or registration fees to attend a medical education congress. Also each Member Company must disclose a list of POs to which it provides financial support and/or significant indirect/non-financial support or with whom it has engaged to provide contracted services for that Member Company.
